

July 7th + 8th

tried to talk to her about home - needing constant care - very ^{negative} adamant about a home - kept bringing up the award dinner - asking if we had received invitation. Every night the same thing - light on ^{cloud} - talking, yelling.

July 10 - Afternoon - suddenly walked out front door she said Med was coming to take her home - finally got her mind off on something else (played cards with her) - that night - put on dress - cleaned up - a woman was suppose to be coming to take her to award dinner. Sat in family room waiting. Tried to tell her nobody coming and to go to bed. Finally after many times talking her this she went to her room mad. Followed her - talking loud in room - saying "Margaret, I don't love you any more, Betty, Med too. You and your nice home, two cars, husband,